SYNOPSIS

Lucas Moreno brings the legend of the Werewolf to life. As the seventh son, his destiny has been determined since birth: when he turns 30, on nights with a full moon, he will turn into a terrible beast, half man, half wolf, that will commit the worst crime: killing his own father.

The young boy doesn't know his destiny and story, he doesn't know who his real father was and that he ordered him to be killed when he was a newborn to avoid the prophecy. From now on, Lucas must face the curse and fight against his animal instincts. While in the stage of transformation, Lucas meets Ana, a young employee at an important company where Lucas hopes to work one day. They like each other, but they need to fight against all sorts of enemies, with their origin and against the curse that haunts Lucas.

Where there is a wolf, there is a hunter. Lisandro Diaz Pujol is an ambitious man, a gun lover who has no problem shooting down his victims. And Lucas will be target of his worst strategies.
